Frosh Turn Back The Clock Tonight

Miss Carpenter Is Honored

Former Students Water Pageant Is Published

A true success story that will make the heart of every Mary Washingtonian swell with pride comes as a surprise to the majority of the population of the hill. In the September issue of "The Journal of Health and Physical Education," publication of the National Education Association, appeared the entire script and presentation directions of "Alice in Waterland," water pageant written and directed last year by Miriam Carpenter.

Miriam, who was a popular and beloved member of last year's graduating class, is now teaching physical education in the schools at Staunton. Any one of the old girls can well remember the time, energy, and almost phenomenal work she and her staff of A. A. girls contributed to making the pageant the success it was. They worked day and night, exhausting all imaginable resources, to achieve this recognition which they unquestionably deserved.

Others who did praiseworthy work are Juanita Stokes, last year's Athletic Association president, Mary Elizabeth Welsh, president of the Swimming Club, Eunice Martin, who had charge of costumes, and others whom space does not permit us to list.

Leading roles, those of Alice and her double, were played by Frances Grief and Marjorie Hotcomb. The entire cast was pronounced superb by last year's student body and it is with a true thrill that we learn of the widespread attention given the revue.

This year's Swimming Club launched a successful career by sponsoring a swimming and diving exhibition Tuesday noon. It is hoped that students, new and old, will take a great deal of interest in both this club, which is headed by Dorothy Graff, and the Athletic Association, lead by Jane Adams. Sponsor for the organization is Miss Mildred Spiesman, a new member of our faculty.

College Expands As Year Begins

Starting with an enrollment of approximately 1300, Mary Washington looks forward to a most successful year. With Westmoreland Hall ready for occupation and being used, and with George Washington Hall (the new administration building) nearing completion, the campus is rounding out as a larger, more smoothly-running unit.

The new senior dorm with its large bright rooms, beautiful parlor and stately columns is an outstanding asset to the college. George Washington Hall, which will be finished in October will be complete in every detail. The auditorium which will seat 1600 is equipped with every modern fixture. Movies will be given there and the large stage will prove an ample setting for any and all productions.

In the basement is a large ball room and on top of the building the roof-garden gives a view of the entire college, the city of Fredericksburg, and surrounding countryside. On the second and third floors are class rooms and various offices.

The freshmen this year total 611, sophomores 252, Juniors 111, and seniors 94. There are forty-two transfers.

Freshman Play Day October 7

On October 7, The Woman's Athletic Association is sponsoring Freshmen Play Day. This is the time for all Freshmen and new students to acquaint themselves with the sports offered at Mary Washington.

Our sports are numerous and varied, with a change each quarter. Freshmen Play Day is the Day to familiarize yourselves with all the sports—every kind and description. You will want to get an idea of each sport.

Come out for Play Day and you will first see a demonstration of every sport offered at this school, and then have an opportunity to actually participate in any and all if you so desire.

All officers and other members of the Athletic Association Council will be presented. It is very essential that you hear what they have to tell you about their particular sport.

This is one day Freshmen and new students will not want to miss. Watch the Bulletin Board and THE BULLET for further announcements.

See you at Play Day on Oct. 7, 1939.

EUNICE MARTIN,

Publicity Chairman, Athletic Council.

Notables Judge Kid Competition

Gym To Be Scene Of Traditional Freshman Party

To-night the gymnasium in Monroe Hall will be the scene of the annual kid party, one of the oldest of Mary Washington traditions. The upper-classmen will appear with their little sisters in full regalia for the evening.

The program will consist of dancing with music furnished by the Mary Washington Dance Orchestra which is steadily growing in popularity. The major part of the evening will be devoted to the grand march at which the freshmen will parade in their kid outfits to be judged according to the most childlike costume. Judges, will be Dr. Morgan L. Combs, Mrs. Bushnell, Justice George L. Browning and the Honorable Virgilus Shackelford.

Richmonder Last Winner

Last year the winner of this affair was Miss Mildred (Dumpy) Vass of Richmond, Virginia, who with long braids, books dangling from a strap, and wearing a demure smile walked off with top honors.

This annual occasion is one eagerly looked forward to by the entire student body and this year's crop of freshmen gives promise of making this affair the most successful one yet.

SNAPPY STUFF

Mrs. Ethel Nicholson hitchhiked nearly 300 miles with her 2-year-old baby to take a job as housekeeper for Mrs. Mary Moody of Salem, N. J.

Baked pear, rice covered, served cold with chilled maple syrup makes a nutritious and tasty dessert.

A Winnipeg newspaper records some recent happenings which indicate that there may be something in a name after all: Oscar Luck went bankrupt as a result of gambling; Mr. Cuff and Miss Link were married; Thomas Newerstop was arrested for speeding.

EDITORIAL

Once again the month of September has rolled around bringing with it not only the coolness of autumn evenings and the distant "ping" of spiked shoes against pigskin but also, of far greater importance to those of us concerned, the official opening of Mary Washington College.

To those of you who have been here before, it is an old story. The wild confusion of registering; the long waiting lines; the trek to town to return laden with trash baskets, brooms, etc. It is all a familiar routine.

To you who have come for the first time, it is bewildering, and exciting and strange all at once. You cannot understand why you have to stand in line on every possible occasion. You wish that you could get to the dining room just once in time to get a space, and not have to stand helplessly after everyone else is seated. You wonder if you'll ever get straight which building is which. And why on earth did you have to barge into a class full of Seniors this morning when you were sure it was Freshmen English? Don't worry though. Just remember that for a good many years now, there has come to the college a group of girls who have felt just as you do now, and most of them have not only lived through it, but have come back as extremely self-confident "old girls." And remember too, that we upperclassmen stand ready, willing, and able to help you with your problems, and to make these first trying weeks as easy as possible for you. In this our faculty stands behind us.

Since your arrival here you have been welcomed by most of the clubs and in nearly every capacity. In fact you are probably tired of the very word. However, we of the BULLET would like to take this opportunity to welcome you to "the hill" and to put ourselves at your service throughout the coming year.

KEYHOLE

KOMMENTS

We wonder why Elsie Davis was so excited Tuesday nite. Could it have been a "special" from Ryland?

Have you noticed that Carolyn Moore is not wearing that diamond ring this year?

Two new fraternity pins around the campus—Mo Kent and Sophia Eisenman.

Pale Liverman is still that way about Harry.

We hear that Lib Manning's Ernie may go to Texas in January. What will Lib do then?

What is this we hear about Jo Lee Fleet being in love with a William and Mary man?

Hannah Grahl has finally found a true love. What was it you told us last year, Hannah, about never falling in love?

Midge Clapp just can't seem to find anyone better than Edmond. Are you sure that you have tried, Midge?

Mary Dryden is still in love with that Alabama lad. She is already talking about spending Easter down there.

We hear that Gretchen Bubenzer decided at the last minute not to come back to M. W. C. We wonder if there might be ONE certain reason Why.

Whose picture is Edith Beamer wearing in her locket? Is it still V. M. I.

Mary Estes is leaving us this week-end already to go see Dick at R. M. C.

Have you seen Winnie Hudson back again this year? She is still wondering why she came back. Is it true about Prentiss Vaughan being engaged? She had a "special" waiting for her when she arrived.

We wonder whether Dot Adams will still be trotting off to Hampden-Sydney every week-end again this year.

New additions to the list of "in loves": Nancy Brooker, is it V. P. I., Nancy? and Kitty Burks.

We can't dig up much news on the Freshmen yet but have you noticed the V. M. I. ring that Fenton Wambersie is wearing?

Have you heard about the Freshman over in Hamlet House who came all the way from Oklahoma to be near V. P. I. and now she can't go to the Openings because the Frosh aren't allowed cuts the first six weeks.

Have all you people seen Lucy Dickinson's little sister? We mean a real one. She looks just like Lucy and is every bit as cute.

SEPTEMBER HISTORY

Among the anniversaries of September, several are of historic importance, and worth remembering. A recently compiled list includes the following:

3rd, Treaty ending the Revolutionary War signed, 1783.

4th, Hudson River discovered, 1609.

6th, President McKinley shot, 1901.

7th, Boston settled, 1630.

8th, St. Augustine settled, 1565.

11th, Battle of Lake Champlain, 1814.

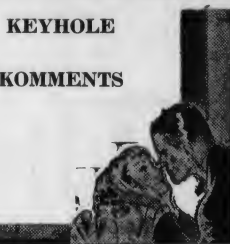

13th, General Winfield Scott entered Mexico City, 1847.

14th, "The Star Spangled Banner" written by Francis Scott Key, 1814.

17th, United States Constitution adopted, 1787.

21st, First daily newspaper in the United States, the Pennsylvania Packet, published in Philadelphia, 1784.

22nd, Nathan Hale, Revolutionary patriot, executed as a spy by

Interesting Personalities

An interesting personality who concerns all of us this year at Mary Washington College is Leighton Stevens, President of the Student Government. "Steve," who is a Senior living over in Westmoreland Hall, is 21 years old, and comes from Roanoke, Virginia.

Besides holding one of the major offices on the hill this year, "Steve" has been outstanding in her past years at M. W. C. For three years she has been a member of the Mary Washington Players, a member of the Glee Club, and the Athletic Association. She is also a member of Alpha Psi Omega, an honorary dramatic society.

"Steve" was Vice-President of the Junior Class, Chairman of Tennis, and treasurer of the Leader's Club.

Her interests are many and varied. Being a Physical Education major, "Steve" likes all sports. Dramatics also play a big part in her college life and she appears in most of the college dramatic productions. After graduation she plans to teach.

SNAPPY STUFF

While trying to rescue his goat which had fallen into a well, L. V. Warlick of Marcum, Okla., fell in himself. Discovered several hours later by Warlick's brother, both man and goat were fished out.

While he was on vacation, the apartment of Ralph Ellis of Salt Lake City caught fire from an overheated radio which had been going continuously for 10 days.

the British, 1776.
24th, "Black Friday, in Wall Street, 1869.

26th, Balboa discovered the Pacific Ocean, 1531.

27th, British under General Howe captured Philadelphia, 1777.

To these must be added the most sinister date of all, the beginning of the present war on September 1, 1939.

Interesting Personalities

Mary Estes, President of the Y. W. C. A., the most active organization on the hill, is a versatile personality. Ever smiling, hard working, and a girl of varied interests—that describes Mary.

Mary is a member of the Commercial Club, the Riding Club, Student Government, Home Economics Club, and Alpha Phi Sigma, a national scholarship fraternity.

Mary Estes

In her Freshman year Mary was President of the Freshman Commission, and in all three years she has been very active in Y. W. C. A. work, being a member of many different committees. Last year she was Freshman Commissioner.

Last year Mary was voted one of the six most outstanding girls at school and she also was a candidate for the Ideal Girl.

Mary's interests are varied, but Girl Scouting and Y. W. C. A. work, are most prominent interests.

This is the first of a series of "Interesting Personalities." Watch next week for an interview with another well-known campus leader.

Hockey! The Sport of Season

Girls, you can find no other sport which offers such variety of opportunities for good, wholesome exercise and enjoyment.

Uphold and support your class by going out for hockey. Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores! Don't get the idea in your head that if you have never played and do not know anything about it or that you can't play. You need not be an expert player, you may not have ever seen a game, but you have plenty of time yet to make the best player at Mary Washington. So, come on out regardless of how much hockey you know or have played.

This fall is the time to acquaint yourselves. You'll never regret it. You'll reap great personal benefits from your participation and you'll certainly help your class. Come to practices.

Freshmen! with all the cute, intelligent, sporty looking girls you have, you'll take the victory in the first game. Come out and give a good support to your team. The more, the better. You'll not be any greener than the next one to you.

Practice begins Tuesday. Watch Bulletin Boards for Notices.

Let's play hockey! right from the start and practice is the one and only solution.

A UNIQUE RESORT

A health resort affording the quiet of almost rural environment, yet in close proximity to a great medical center, is something almost unique. Such is the North Shore Health Resort at Winnetka, Ill., on Lake Michigan, near Chicago, described as "one of the most attractively located sanitariums in the world."

In 40 years of operation it has become increasingly popular, especially among patients from the South, who suffer during oppressive summer heat.

The institution has enlarged its scope in recent years, so that it is now a completely equipped sanitarium offering treatment for a variety of illnesses. Its location near the great medical centers of Chicago has made it possible for the institution to keep abreast with new methods of diagnosis and treatment. Visitors returning this autumn after a period of treatment report that an extensive program has just been completed and that new equipment has been added in readiness for the popular fall season.

The North Shore Health Resort is one of the oldest and best known resorts of its kind in the middle west. Its baths, massage treatments, the beautiful walks along the North Shore, and other exercise provide a healthful rest at this time of the year.

Fall guests are largely Southerners who go north to enjoy the fresh breezes off Lake Michigan and to sleep in the cool invigorating night air.

Eight-year-old Edward Pearlman of Philadelphia wandered away from home so often that his mother took him to a clinic for an examination. While she explained his case to the doctor, Edward strayed off for several hours.
